SAGE Design-Build Inc. has moved into its new location.

The new office is in a renovated Victorian home on Lower Macungie Road that the company purchased back in January.

The office offers multiple conference rooms and client meeting space. The company has also added to its staff.

“We are excited to bring this new view of SAGE to our community and our clients. The rebrand speaks to our growth and continued commitment to turning construction dreams to reality,” said Joe Landrigan, president of SAGE Design-Build, Inc. “With the expansion of our team, we are bringing even greater expertise and quality oversight to the Lehigh Valley construction space.”

SAGE Design-Build Inc. has more than 30 years’ experience in design, construction and land development.
